DECISION IN THE CIRCUIT COURT BY JUDGE DEADY.

John Nightingale and Simon G. Elliott v. The Or. Cen. Railway Co. and The Or. & Cal. Railway Co.—No. 131—In Equity.

DEADY, J.—Monday, June 9, 1873.

Suit commenced May —, 1871, to declare void a transfer of franchise and lands belonging to the Or. Central, to the Or. & California, and for an injunction and receiver pending the suit.

July 3, 1871, defendant filed 31 exceptions to the Bill for impertinence and scandal.

Argued and submitted March 6, 1873.

Law of the case found in 26 Rule in Eq.

1 Ex. Allowed.

A brief statement of the purposes of the corporation was all-sufficient; and if it was proper to set out the whole articles either by stating them in the Bill or referring to them and annexing them, it should have been done directly and not by reference to a volume said to contain, among other things, a copy of these articles. Besides, this volume is referred to as being an "exhibit." Now there is no such thing in equity pleading as an exhibit. A deed or other writing may be set out in a bill or referred to, and a copy thereof annexed, which thereby becomes a part of the pleading. In either case the effect is the same. But an "exhibit" is a document proved before the examiner or on the hearing, and read in evidence to support the bill or answer, as the case may be. It is a part of the evidence, and not of the pleadings. There is, then, at this stage of the case, no exhibit in this cause, and this volume entitled "Elliott v Holladay et al., Nightingale v Holladay et al, Depositions of Ben Holladay and Milton S. Latham, San Francisco; Frank Eastman, printer, 509 Clay street, 1871," and to which reference is made for these articles of incorporation, is improperly on the files of the court, and might as well be still in the office of the publisher.

2 Ex. Allowed.

The abstract fact that Congress passed an act on a certain day entitled so and so, which may be found on a certain page of a certain vol. of the U. S. Statutes at large, is not so far as appears material to any controversy between these parties. Besides, it is a matter of which the Court takes knowledge and therefore need not be informed.

3. Allowed.

This act of July 25, 1866, being a general act and so printed, need not be pleaded, because the Court has judicial knowledge of it. But if it were necessary to plead it, so as to inform the Court concerning it, a reference to the volume in which it is said to be contained would be wholly insufficient. It would have to be set out in the Bill or a copy thereof annexed to it and referred to in the Bill.

4 and 5 Ex. Allowed.

For same reasons as in 1, 2 and 3.

6 Ex. Allowed.

This copy of this contract being set out in the so-called exhibit it does not make it a part of the Bill, and therefore the mere statement of that fact is immaterial and impertinent.

7, 8, 9 and 10. Allowed.

For the reasons stated in case of No. 6.

11. Allowed.

This allegation is immaterial and reproachful, and therefore scandalous. If the proceedings of the stockholders' meeting were illegal and unauthorized, then the rights of the plaintiff were not affected thereby, but if the contrary is the case, then it is immaterial who or what influenced the action of the stockholders. It is a clear case of scandal.

12, 13, 14, 15 and 16. Allowed.

For the same reasons as in 1, 2 and 3.

17. Allowed.

A case might arise in which this allegation would be material and therefore not scandalous. But in this case, the Bill states that the plaintiffs' corporation, the O. C. Co., has refused to bring suit to enforce and maintain their alleged rights, and such refusal authorizes the plaintiffs to sue for themselves, and make their corporation a party defendant, as they have. Therefore it is now immaterial to say that the directors of the O. C. Co. are so under the influence and control of Holladay and Emmott that if they should bring a suit to obtain the relief which the O. C. Co. is entitled to as against the O. and C. Co., that said directors would contrive to have judgment given against the plaintiffs' corporation. As the case stands, the allegation being both immaterial and reproachful, is scandalous.

18. Not allowed.

This allegation is to the effect that the pretended sale and transfer from the O. C. Co. to the O. and C. Co., was and is null and void as against the stockholders who did not assent thereto.

The ground of the exception is, that the allegation is a mere conclusion of law, but that is not a sufficient objection upon an exception for impertinence, where there are facts stated to support such conclusion, or which tend to support it.

19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30 and 31. Allowed.

These exceptions include various portions of the so-called exhibit, and are allowed for the reasons given in considering No. 1—that is, that this volume is no part of the Bill and is improperly on the files of the court. It may be that the exceptions are for that reason unnecessary, but as no objection has been made on that ground, I have concluded to consider them as well taken and allow them.

Joseph N. Dolph and E. C. Bronaugh for exceptions, W. H. Effinger, contra.

THE TERRITORIES.

The Episcopal Church at Walla Walla has a new organ and the people are delighted with it.

James Jones of Walla Walla has made an assignment of his goods for the benefit of his creditors. He was in the grocery business.

The Fairplay, Colorado, Sentinel boasts that it is published at a greater altitude than any other paper in the world—10,000 feet above the level of the sea.

Jack Graham returned to Walla Walla, from Auburn, Oregon, the other day, and reports having passed over a distance of twenty miles where the snow averaged from three to twelve feet in depth.

The Kalama Beacon says it is announced that Capt. J. C. Ainsworth, of Portland, President of the O. S. N. Company, has been elected a Director of the N. P. Railroad, and appointed Resident Managing Director of Pacific Division.

Trade is a little brisker at Waitsburg, W. T., than it was some time since. The firm of Jacobson & Bro. has closed out and removed to Camas Prairie, Idaho. Mechanics find but little to do at present. There are some houses to let, some lawsuits, and croquet in abundance.

The Christian custom of marriage has been instituted among the Indians, as will appear by the following: "At Quinault, W. T., May 23d, by G. A. Henry, Agent, Jack Co-not, of Wynooche tribe, to Miss Jane Cape, of Quinault. At the same time and place, by the same, Wynooche Bob to Miss Lucy, of Wynooche."

The Puget Sound Courier says: "On the first of the month the Indians on the Straits of Fuca held a grand 'potlatch' a few miles below Port Angeles. Some trader, thinking to make a few dimes, took across a barrel of whisky to sell to the Indians. No sooner was his purpose discovered, however, than two of the principal Indians took axes and stove in the head of the barrel, emptying its contents out upon the ground. This is a case almost unparalleled in Indian history, for, generally, they are anxious to get all the fire-water possible. The Indians, by way of encouragement, were promoted to the rank of Chief and Marshal, by Superintendent Milroy."

Some Matters Set Right.

ALBANY, May 29th, 1873.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In the Oregon Herald of the 15th inst., there appeared in connection with some criticisms by the "American Law Review" of the third volume Oregon Reports, an editorial doing great injustice to that enterprising publishing house, A. L. Bancroft & Co., of San Francisco. The editorial says, "that the last session of the Oregon Legislature a bill was passed authorizing the Secretary of State to purchase for use of the State two hundred and fifty copies of the third volume of Oregon Reports—described in the act as 'being now in course of publication'—at a price not exceeding six dollars per copy." "Immediately upon the passage of the act the gentlemanly agent of the publishing house of Bancroft & Co., of San Francisco, who happened to be at Salem, took his departure with the manuscript copy of the so called third volume of Oregon Reports now in course of publication—snugly stored away in his valise—with the consciousness that the house of Bancroft & Co., had found a soft thing." Now sir the impression intended to be created in the mind of the reader by the Herald article is, that the third volume Oregon Reports was not, at the time referred to "in course of publication." I apprehend it was well known to most members of the last Legislative Assembly that at the time that bill was introduced the third volume Oregon Reports was then "in course of publication"—that the proof sheets had, weeks prior to the introduction of this bill, been placed in the hands of the reporter. This being the fact, of course, the agent of the publishing house of Bancroft & Co., had no occasion to "store away in his valise" the manuscript, however fonny he may have felt over the "soft thing" he had found. However "soft" the last Legislature may have been, it was not quite "soft" enough to appropriate fifteen thousand dollars as stated by the Herald for the two hundred and fifty copies of Reports; it did appropriate just what two hundred and fifty copies amounted to at $6 per copy, to wit: $1,500 and no more.

But again, the Herald writer says: "To be short and plain about the matter; the whole thing is a job, put up by a publishing house, and let us hope that the speculation extends no further." This is "short and plain" and decidedly broad but—are the facts stated true—do the circumstances surrounding the publication of the third volume of the Oregon Reports, warrant the Herald editor in publishing so broad and damaging a declaration against the publishing house of Bancroft & Co.? There must be at least two parties to a contract; hence, Bancroft & Co. could not "put up this job" alone,—there must have been another party. Who was it? The publication of Oregon Reports heretofore have, I believe, been contracted for by the reporter. Doubtless it was so in this case. I know the Legislature was not the other contracting party; for, as I have shown, the work was progressing ... it convened, and all it had to do in the matter, and all it did do, was to authorise the Secretary of State to buy 250 copies at $6 per copy, and if the cases reported are not worth the money, I fail to see why Bancroft & Co. should suffer for the delinquency of whoever perpetrated what the Herald writer says in the next line, is "a sham and a fraud." Bancroft & Co. were not the Supreme reporter, nor did they report the nisi prius cases, nor were they or are they in any manner responsible for what it contains. All they were required to do, I apprehend, was to print, bind and deliver the books. This they have done, and it is well done. Let the responsibility for any failure in the contents rest where it belongs,—not upon the innocent. The second volume Oregon Reports cost when published $6 50, and contain only 365 pages. The third volume contains 641 pages and cost $6. If Bancroft & Co. cannot sell more than 250 copies of these Reports, I apprehend it will prove a very unprofitable "job" to them, and one they certainly would not have "put up" all by themselves.

I have no desire, Mr. Editor, to offer any comments upon the Herald's strictures on the Reports. What I have written is in vindication of an enterprising publishing house, composed, as I believe, of upright and honorable men, against the unwarrantable attack of the Herald, and this self imposed task I should have performed at the time the paper appeared, but was absent at the time, and failed to see the paper at all until my attention was called to it to-day. Yours,

J. W. BALDWIN.

IDAHO CORRESPONDENCE.

MOUNT IDAHO, I. T., May 31, 1873.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Thinking that you take an interest in the prosperity of our country, I thus take the liberty of addressing you this communication. We have had an unusual amount of wet weather this spring, and the prospects for a good crop have never been any better. Last winter was considered very severe, but there was less stock died than is usual. I was out hunting cattle this spring, and spent five days around where near 3,000 cattle had wintered, and I saw but five car casses, and cattle and horses are fat and sleek.

Times are hard, but men who come from below say we have no right to complain, as times are better here than elsewhere. Our prairie is adapted to farming, but heretofore we have not raised enough for home consumption. But things are now taking a change. Messrs. Wheeler & Tothaker are putting up a substantial flouring mill, the benefit of which to the farmers would be hard to estimate. There are now on this prairie 75 farms and room for thousands more, and it is somewhat strange that so much good land should lie idle when there are thousands of people home less or living in climates so cold as the Northern States proved to be this last winter. The coldest day we have had for the last four years was 12° below zero, and but three days at that tempera ture.

We have not escaped the Indian excitement which is raging all over the coast, but ours was caused by groundless rumors, which were told with such effect that five families pulled up stakes and started for the Walla Walla valley. Two of the parties got over their scare before they got to Lewiston, and came back. There is no danger of the Indians in this country, and at no time have they manifested a more peaceful disposition and an inclination to abandon their natural habits and make a living by farming and raising stock than at the present time; and I can safely say, without the fear of being convicted of mendacity, that there is no danger. All those who wish to emigrate to a new country need not stand back in fear of the Indians. A short time ago the citizens had a meeting and organized a home guard, and near 100 men enrolled. The Indians heard of it and thought the whites were going to drive them from their country. One of their Chiefs came up to have a talk with Mr. Brown, to come to some understanding, saying that if the white men would let them stay they would be have themselves. I think those who left in fear will much regret their haste now, as it will cost them some money and a great deal of trouble.

Yours, truly, W.

The Independent mentions the resurrection of six poems in manuscript by quaint George Herbert. Rev. Alexander Grosart is the fortunate discoverer. In one of these appears this odd argument against transubstantiation:

> "Then of this also I am sure
> That thou did'st all these pains endure
> To abolish sin, not wheat."

A Boston dispatch gives the following as the most correct estimates of losses by the recent fire which can be made until adjustments are made: Foreign companies, $31,000; New York companies, $29,000; Pennsylvania companies, $180,000; Hartford companies, $77,000; Providence, $10,000; Bangor, $13,000; miscellaneous, $80,000.

EASTERN DATES TO JUNE 9.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The Attorney-General's Opinion on the Modoc Question.

WASHINGTON CITY, June 7.—Attorney General Williams has made public his opinion on the question of the disposition to be made of the Modocs. It remits them to the action of General Davis. Their chief offense cited is the assassination of bearers of flags of truce—a crime which has heretofore received punishment of death.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The President and Secretary of War have already been informed of the opinion of Attorney General Williams, that such of the Modocs as are charged with offenses against the recognized laws of war may be tried and punished by a military commission, and the War Department will, in accordance with this opinion, send instructions to Gen. Davis through Gen. Schofield. There is no doubt that a Commission will be organized without delay, and a trial commenced according to army regulations. As the proceedings and findings in a Military Commission, where the sentence is death, are transmitted to Washington for the review and approval of the President before sentence can be carried into effect, several weeks must unavoidably pass before the punishment of the Modocs takes place.

Examination of Survivors of the Polaris.

The examination by the naval authorities of Captain Tyson and Sergeant Myers of the Polaris expedition yesterday lasted eight hours. It elicited nothing not already published, but tends strongly to the conclusion that Capt. Hall died a natural death.

Investigation of Mail Route Swindles.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The Postoffice Department has concluded to send a special agent to the various Territories to inspect the stage routes prior to letting the mail contracts on the 1st of September next. The Department is under the impression that there is considerable swindling both as to the length of the routes claimed, and frequency with which the mails are delivered, and it is proposed to stop this sort of thing if possible.

EASTERN STATES.

Railway Accident.

OMAHA, June 8.—In consequence of the late heavy rains the Elkhorn river has been over its banks for several days. As to-day's passenger train was going west on the Union Pacific road in passing over the trestle work on the eastern approach to Elkhorn bridge, the engine mail express car, loaded with live fish for California, went through into the water. Mr. Carry, road master, was drowned. No one else hurt. Passengers from the west will be delayed until to-morrow. No transfer can be made until the track is clear.

Emboldened by Success.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Joaquin Miller writes to the Boston Lyceum Bureau that his songs were so well received in England, that he intends publishing a history of his life with the Indians.

The Geneva Award.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The Geneva Award of $15,500,000 is to be paid on Sept. 14th of the present year.

Another Railway Casualty.

SANDUSKY, June 7.—A stock train and gravel train on the Lake Shore road, came into collision this afternoon. One man was killed and five others injured. About 15 cattle and 250 sheep were killed.

Serious Affray.

BOSTON, June 8.—This evening two men employed in the Herald office, Andrew Egan and Thomas Holehan, got into a dispute, when Egan stabbed Holehan in the abdomen, inflicting a wound from which he will probably die. Egan was arrested.

Respited.

BALTIMORE, June 8.—Governor White has respited Hallahan, one of the parties convicted of the murder of Mrs. Lamphey, until the 1st of August.

The Mexican View of the McKenzie's Raid.

MATAMORAS, June 8.—The Vox Publica, the Government organ, in an editorial headed "Invasion," severely criticised Col. McKenzie's expedition to Mexico in pursuit of Kickapoo Indians, denouncing the act as an aggression committed on a nation that is too weak to resist, and intended to serve as a pretext to seize additional territory. The Government of Mexico is urged to exact immediate reparation for this violation of her sovereignty, and the article concludes by saying that if it is not complied with it will be found that Mexico of to-day is not Mexico of 1846. It is supposed that the article reflects the sentiment of the Government. It is received from the city of Mexico by telegraph, and is put forth to test the feelings of the people on the frontier of Mexico.

Murder on a Street Car.

NEW YORK, May 9.—Peter Kenney and an unknown man quarreled in a Third avenue street car to-day. The latter suggested that they step off the car and settle the difficulty. Kenney consented, and as he stepped from the car his antagonist shot him fatally and escaped.

A Highwayman's Present.

NEW YORK, June 9.—The Superintendent of Police received on Saturday a pair of hand cuffs, with the compliments of Bully Winslow, the alleged highwayman, who escaped from an officer on Thursday.

Three Boys Drowned.

NEW YORK, June 9.—While the pupils of Rev. Mr. Selleck's Sunday School, at Norwalk, Conn., on Saturday afternoon, were sailing, accompanied by their teacher, the steamer American ran into one of the boats, capsizing it. Three boys were drowned: Charles J. Bostwick of Auburn, N. Y., Edward Morris of Troy, N. Y., and William B. Crane of Somers, N. Y.

More Annexation.

NEW YORK, June 9.—A Washington special says there is a growing feeling among officials for the annexation of Guatemala to the United States; that citizens of the former country, accompanied by its accredited Minister, assured President Grant of the desire of the people for annexation, and their anxiety to know when such result could be reached.

NOVA SCOTIA.

Result of the Challenger's Cruise.

HALIFAX, June 8.—The steamship Challenger, with the scientific expedition, arrived at Bermuda from Halifax on the 29th ult. The soundings taken tend to show that the configuration of the bed of the Atlantic in this region, will easily admit of laying a telegraphic cable, both toward the States and Nova Scotia, the greatest depths never reaching 3,000 fathoms, with an average of 2,500. There is a gradual rise of the sea bottom at both extremities.

MEXICO.

Mexican State Affairs.

CITY OF MEXICO, June 1.—Foster, the new American Minister, arrived on the 27th. Foreign priests, who have recently been in custody, have been expelled from the country, the Government styling them "pernicious foreigners." The American Minister interfered in behalf of two naturalized Irishmen, but the President refused to allow them to remain. The arrest of these priests is considered a clear indication of the unwillingness of the President to protect the Church property, although he has hitherto been considered as having a leaning in favor of priests.

Congress has adjourned. Neither of the American railroad projects passed Congress. A new Congress is to be elected soon.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Revolt in the Northeastern Army.

MADRID, June 7.—A telegram was received to-day by the Minister of War, from General Velarde, resigning his command of the troops in Barcelona. A dispatch from the city of Barcelona, explains this action by announcement that Velarde's column had mutinied at Iqualvalle, thirty-three miles west of Barcelona. Velarde's staff had been forced to save themselves, by flight, from the fury of the revolted troops.

Election in the Cortes.

MADRID, June 7.—The Cortes to-day elected Orense President. He received 177 votes. Other officers of the Cortes were re-elected.

Palace Burned—Seven Lives Lost.

LONDON, June 9.—Alexandria Palace, near this city, was burned to-day, and it is reported seven lives were lost.

Great Fire and Riot in Dublin.

LONDON, June 9.—A dispatch from Dublin says a great fire is raging in a lumber yard in that city. A crowd, whose object is plunder, is interfering with the firemen, and stoning them. A detachment of police was ordered to preserve order. The latter charged, wounding many. The Mayor of the city was hit by one of the stones. Intense excitement prevails in the vicinity, and the scene during the charge of the police was fearful. Property to the value of one hundred thousand pounds is already destroyed.

New Ministry for Spain.

MADRID, June 9.—Shortly after the passage of the resolutions definitely proclaiming the Federal Republic, the Cortes took a recess until evening, when Pi y Margall proposed the following new Ministry, which was accepted by the Cortes in secret session: President of the Council and Minister of the Interior, Senor Pi y Margall; Minister of State, C. Everd; Minister of Justice, J. P. Sedeital; Minister of War, Estevanz; Minister of the Colonies, Lorno; Minister of Finance, Corospal; Minister of Marine, Prieere; Minister of Public Works, Palancia.

ARIZONA.

SAN DIEGO, June 9.—The Arizona Sentinel reports the finding of the body of Jesus Alvarez one mile from a station, who died from want of food and water. He was supposed to be crazy.

Two men found the body of Samuel Olix. He was scalped and the flesh and clothes stripped from various parts of his person. Near his person was found a passport dated "Bernewit, April 30th, 1872," giving name and description of person. A military passport was also found, stating that he was originally from Oberdalm. Sheriff Goodwin forwarded them to the Swiss Consul at San Francisco.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—Wm. Sharon will soon build a large and magnificent hotel six stories high, on Market and Montgomery streets, to be conducted on the European plan.

The motion to dismiss the opposition of the creditors of the Folsom estate to the allowance of Mrs. Gen. Halleck's estate, was denied by the Probate Court to-day.

All the testimony in the Deaf, Dumb and Blind Asylum investigation is closed, and the arguments had to-day. The committee will visit the Asylum to-morrow, close up the work, and submit the report to Governor Booth.

Rev. T. K. Noble delivered a sermon last night on the Chinese question, from a Christian standpoint. He said the treatment of the Chinese in California was a shame to civilization.

The entire loss by fire last evening was $8,000, fully covered by insurance.

Passengers overland—E. D. Bennet, Oregon.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—To-night Mayor Alvord returned to the Board of Supervisors, without his approval, the celebrated Pig-tail Ordinance and Laundry License order leveled at the Chinese population. He objects to the first because it proposes to inflict on Chinese convicted of misdemeanor, a punishment which they deem shameful and disgraceful; and he says no such punishment ought to be inflicted for crimes not infamous. He further objects to the ordinance, because it is by terms in violation of the treaty with China and laws of the country, and opposed to the policy of the Government.

The Mayor holds that no State, much less municipal corporation, has a right to interfere with or prevent the carrying out of the policy of the Federal Government, and that while there may be honest differences of opinion on the question of Chinese immigration, all must agree it is a matter exclusively under the control of the General Government. He recites the treaty with China and the laws of Congress bearing on the subject. The other order is vetoed, because it makes unjust discrimination against persons in the matter of taxation, and would affect poor white women as seriously as Chinese. The order provided, that all laundries where animal power is not employed to haul clothing, be required to pay a tax of $15 per quarter. It remains to be seen whether the Board will pass the orders over the veto.

There is a large meeting of citizens to-night at Platt's Hall to make arrangements for the Fourth of July celebration, independent of the opposition to the Committee which met last week.

Mr. Peachy is addressing a meeting. The Mayor had called another meeting for the evening, but men met and made all the preliminary arrangements in the afternoon of to-day. This action caused much dissatisfaction. Hence this new move.

Bruno ..., the alleged murderer of Ah Tuck, has ceased his ravings, and seems to be now perfectly sane.

The old U. S. steamer Resaca, when reconstructed will be known as the Ventura, and will run between this port and Santa Barbara.

A match game of billiards will be played to-morrow night at the Grand Hotel, between Henry Marrifield and Lauck Perkins, for $500 a side.

The Crown Point dividend is $10 per share. One million dollars will be payable on Thursday.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

SACRAMENTO, June 9.—The small pox is reported among the passengers by the immigrant train due this afternoon. Physicians are going out to Arcade to make examination and take proper steps if the report prove true.

LOS ANGELES, June 9.—The Republican County Committee selected Saturday, July 5th, as the day to hold primaries. About thirty candidates are announced thus far in both parties.

The opposition daily stage line between Anaheim and Los Angeles commences running to-morrow.

EMIGRANT GAP, June 9.—About 10 o'clock to-day a gentleman, while traveling through the valley about one and a half miles southwest of Emigrant Gap, discovered a man about forty years of age and of sandy complexion, who had apparently been dead some ten days. To-morrow the Coroner will hold an inquest, when all the facts in the case, if possible, will be elicited.

OREGON.

A colt show will be given in Baker City on the 14th inst.

The Directors of the Washington County Agricultural Society have concluded to hold their Fair for four days only, instead of five as heretofore published.

Elijah B. B. Cagle can obtain information greatly to his advantage, by addressing J. M. Shepherd, editor of the Bedrock Democrat, Baker City, Oregon.

E. M. White, of Gem City, has discovered a rich deposit of quartz about six miles from Gem City, on the Hogem road. The indications are that he has a very rich ledge.

There has been some rich strikes in quartz on Connor Creek, Baker county. The mill there has been running some ten days, and made a partial clean up from which 28 pounds of bullion was realized.

An effort is being made to have premiums of $50 each offered at the next Fair for the best short horned bull, and the best long wooled sheep. Five dollars will be given for the best five pounds of butter, and a small premium for the best gallon of buttermilk.

The Baker City Democrat says on last Thursday there was quite an excitement created on Burnt river by a lady on horseback, armed with a six-time shooter, riding at a breakneck speed—enquiring how far the stage was ahead. She overtook the stage at Snake river but the chap she was after had mounted a fleeter steed and was far beyond the reach of her vengeance. The cause of her wrath was not known.

Mr. F. W. Bunnell, in digging a well about one and a half miles from Baker City, at the depth of about ten feet, and after passing through some four feet of hard pan or a kind of cement, found a live frog imbedded in this hard pan, and on liberating him from his earthly prison his frogship became quite lively. The frog looked quite pale when first taken out, but in a short time became impressed with the beauties of nature as viewed from his new position and moved off.

The Benton Democrat Extra of June 9th gives the following particulars of a destructive fire at that place: "At 3:30 this morning an alarm of fire was sounded, arousing our quiet town from its peaceful slumbers. The large flouring mills, situated at the southern end of the city, were in flames. The Department responded to the alarm with their wonted alacrity, and although the 'boys' had a mile to run, they brought their machine to the scene of the conflagration in good season, though the fire having made such headway, and water not being accessible, she was not needed. The mills were built by Mr. E. S. Altree, and were generally known as 'Corvallis Mills.' From the present owner, Mr. F. W. May, we get the following, concerning the origin of the fire: He was confined to a bed of sickness, and was awakened by a crackling sound. On looking out he beheld the lurid reflection of the burning building upon one across the street from his dwelling, which stands near the mill. By strenuous efforts Mr. May's residence, as well as that of his miller, were saved. The mill is a total loss, having burned from turret to foundation. Loss, $10,000; insurance, $5,000, in the Liverpool and London & Globe. Corvallis is now without a flouring mill."

Oregon State Temperance Union.

EXPLANATION REQUESTED.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Certain Sunday Schools of Salem have elected delegates to attend the State Temperance Union, which convenes in the city of Albany on the 13th inst. Will the President or some other competent gentleman please explain if that comes within the spirit and meaning of the Constitution? It thus reads:

"The Union shall be composed of delegates duly elected and accredited from all temperance societies, churches and other religious bodies that enjoin the duty of temperance upon its members as a rule of faith and practice in the State of Oregon. Provided, that no society shall be entitled to representation in the Union, unless it shall make the subject of temperance one of the chief and distinctive features of its organization."

By temperance, we understand pledged to total abstinence from all intoxicating liquor. If so, where is the Church in Oregon that enjoins a pledge of tee-total abstinence from all liquors as a condition of membership, and enforces this as a "rule of faith and practice."

Do our Sunday Schools make the subject of total abstinence from all that will intoxicate, "one of their chief and distinctive features of their organization," and is this a condition of membership—"an article of faith and practice"; and a violation of it subject them to expulsion?

The Union left the Alliance because it was too liberal. Will it not defeat its own object by the same method?

Logging business on the Sound is reported dull, the demand for lumber being light and the mills being well supplied.

HORRIBLE MASSACRE.

BLOODY WORK AT THE FRONT!

Fairchild and his Prisoners Waylaid!

Four Modocs Slain and Two Wounded!

Details of the Slaughter!

BOYLE'S CAMP, TULE LAKE PENINSULA, June 8—Noon.—About daylight yesterday morning, John and James Fairchild and a dozen other citizens left Fairchild's ranch on the banks of Cottonwood creek with seventeen Modoc captives, including Bogus Charley, Shacknasty Jim, Tyee Jack, Poney, Little John, and Mooch. John Fairchild, Bogus and Shacknasty, and all the white men save James being mounted and armed rode in advance, soon after the start, leaving the balance of the party several miles behind. James had the Indians in a wagon drawn by four mules. At the crossing of Lost river, late in the afternoon, James came across the Oregon Volunteers under Capt. Hiser, who were in camp and en route for ... The ... of the Company were scattered around the camp and engaged in various occupations, but upon the approach of the Indians they ran and armed themselves, and then gathered round the wagon. Capt. Hiser said, "Where is Hooka Jim?"

"At Boyle's Camp," replied Fairchild.

Hiser—What two scouts left Fairchild's this morning?

Fairchild—Bogus and Shacknasty.

Hiser—What route did they take?

Fairchild—I can't positively state.

Hiser—What Indians have you here?

Fairchild—All Hot Creeks except Little John, who is a Lost River.

Hiser—(to Little John)—Who shot you?

John—Shacknasty Jim.

John was badly wounded in the thigh and had his leg broken below the knee.

Hiser—(to Fairchild)—What kind of Indians are these?

Fairchild—I guess these are not among the worst. There are no charges against them.

The conversation was of this sort for some time.

Fairchild had an idea that it would be best to place the Indians under the protection of H..., as matters were getting mixed. The volunteers looked as if they meant mischief. Upon second thought he deemed it best to push forward and reach this camp as soon as possible.

Hiser—Where will you camp?

Fairchild—At Dennis Crawley's.

Fairchild drove on and the volunteers returned to camp.

Half an hour after this episode a ... rode up and asked Fairchild if they ... had ... along ahead of him, and the latter replied in the affirmative. The stranger kept Fairchild company for a mile, and turned off to the right toward a bend in the river, two miles from Crawley's ... Indeed, says he to me a few ... came to my eyes, and I mingled my voice with those of the Modocs, in the hope that ... might be averted. Oh, it was a terrible scene. I never shall forget it. I shudder when I think of what I saw and heard—the tearful voices of those women and children are still ringing in my ears, but the cowardly hounds were not to be baulked. A shot, and little John lay dead in the bed of the wagon, with a bullet in his brain.

The four mules dashed away with Fairchild and tangled him in the traces. Five more shots in rapid succession and Tee-hee Jack, Poney, and Mooch, the remaining warriors were dead, and Little John's squaw had a frightful wound in her shoulder. Away ahead in the road and in the direction of Boyle's camp was a cloud of dust, indicating the approach of a team and hurriedly at that; the murderers espied the dust and in a moment were riding rapidly away. The Sergeant took charge of affairs and ... with his ... on the ground, and Fairchild, the teamster and the wounded squaw and her two ... hither. At 2 o'clock this morning Fairchild reached Gen. Davis' headquarters and related his story. Teams with an escort were at once sent out after the prisoners, dead and alive. No steps were taken for the apprehension of the fellows who performed the bloody work. It is generally supposed that the Oregon Volunteers are the guilty parties. Fairchild is of the opinion himself that the warriors killed were not charged with murder. Those who knew them best say that they have only participated in open fights; every one here condemns the affair as atrocious and without excuse. There is no doubt but the murders were carried out upon a carefully arranged plan as Mr. Fairchild noticed horsemen on the road ahead and behind him when the shots were fired. Had John Fairchild, instead of James, been present, another murder might have been added to the list, as the Oregonians are bitter in their hatred of John, the old men and other Californians.

The Warm Springs have only a few weeks longer to serve.

Father O'Kane, Assistant Pastor of the Yreka District, held Catholic service to-day, as usual, at the Provisional Hospital Building.

The weather is soft and mild.

Sergeant Clinton is fast failing.

Second Dispatch.

BOYLE'S CAMP, June 8.—An interview between Gen. Davis and Capt. Jack and Sconchin has just terminated. The Modoc Chief says that he was incited to this cruel warfare by Allen David, Chief of the Klamaths. He also denied having killed Gen. Canby, and laid the blame on his boys. Sconchin told the same story.

The Warm Spring Indians having received an invoice of red paint are now holding a jubilee by night and day. This afternoon several of them rode through the military camp wearing a light and airy uniform, consisting of a towel and a dress coat of red paint.

BUNKER.

YREKA, June 9.—The news of the attack upon the Modoc prisoners, while en route from Fairchild's Ranch to Boyle's Camp, is received with surprise, and is considered by all as disgraceful and atrocious in the extreme. Such action was not expected from white persons. Hon. J. K. Luttrel and B. Steele started for the front this evening to be present at the closing scenes of the Modoc affair. Steele also goes out upon request of some of the army officers, in hopes that he may induce Captain Jack to disclose the whereabouts of articles taken from the persons of victims of the several massacres.

The Clagsin brothers, who kidnapped some squaws from the Fort Jones Reservation last week, were arrested yesterday by Sheriff Morgan. Their examination upon several charges has been going on to-day at Fort Jones.

TUESDAY MORNING, JUNE 10, 1873

The Story as Far as Known

This morning we give in full the story of Mr Senator Mitchell's life as given by his partner, Col John M Thompson, of Butler, Pennsylvania, to the reporter of the Pittsburg Leader. Aside from the unquestionable right of the public to inquire into the character of all public servants, this publication would seem to be required by circumstances in connection with the partial developments heretofore made in this singular case. There seems to be almost as many different rumors, as to what are the real facts, as there are people who comment upon the case, and the number of these already embraces nearly every man, woman and child in the country. Some of these stories are as greatly exaggerated as it is possible to exaggerate so lamentable a series of circumstances, while, on the other hand, many persons suppose the two points touched upon in Mr Mitchell's defence, are all there is of it. These are enough certainly, but not all by any means.

We are sure that no one will attribute this return to the story of our Senator's life, to any other motives than those that ought to actuate a public journalist who is expected to praise or condemn, wherever praise or condemnation is merited, without fear or favor, without malice or personal feeling. No man in all this State would have been better pleased than we to see Mr. Mitchell succeed in vindicating himself before the people of Oregon and of the United States. For, independently of any feeling we may entertain toward Mr. Mitchell—and we have no unkind feeling towards him personally—we could not but wish, for the sake of the good name of the State and of the Republican party, he had been able to purge himself of the serious charges thus preferred against him. That he has not done so is painfully true. The only points in the narrative to which he addresses himself in his explanation, were that of changing his name and that of carrying away moneys that did not belong to him. The first of these he admits in explicit terms, and the second he does not pretend to deny, but seeks to avoid it by saying he did nothing dishonest. The excuse really is that he made it good afterwards, as appears from Thompson's narrative and by the telegram from the same gentleman, embodied in the Senator's statement. This is the telegram, and the whole of it, so far as it touches the matter of embezzling the money.

"No man in Pennsylvania ever lost a cent by you. Every cent was paid in full"

Every cent of what was "paid in full?" The truth is but too apparent. The money of others that had been carried away by John Hipple, under the assumed name of Mitchell, was paid in full. So much would any person be likely to do who had come into circumstances to make good a sum thus taken, especially when, by reason of his political aspirations and prospects, it became indispensably necessary that the matter be made right as far as possible. But to put the case on the true ground, where all honest people will actually put it, how is the taking, and the absconding with, a large sum of money, converted from a high crime into an innocent business transaction by the subsequent restoration of the money? The course of reasoning that would reach the conclusion upon which the Senator rests his defence, we confess our inability to comprehend.

Why did he change his name? The reason he has chosen to assign is equivalent to no reason at all. The troubles he sought to flee from could hardly be thus escaped; while, unless these troubles were the fault of Mr. Hipple himself, he, as a lawyer, could not fail to know a speedy and sure mode of deliverance from them; and if the fault was his, then his mode of escape was but an aggravation of the prior wrong.

But he pleads a "perturbed state of mind." It was a singular perturbation that caused him to take the fatal step of changing his name and leaving the county where his life was above reproach and his good name without a blemish; it was a marvellously provident perturbation that took the precaution to secure "scrip for the journey," and cash in abundance with which to begin life anew in that far off Pacific coast to which he bent his steps. Many a young man, with good health, fine talents and a good profession, would have dared to enter the battle field of life with only these, rather than adopt the method employed by this person to acquire means to make the start less laborious.

But he was youthful, he avers, and indiscreet. How youthful? Twenty-five or twenty-six years of age, a married man for some years, and a man who, if we may believe his but too partial biographer, Col. Thompson, had certainly had his full share of the experiences of political life. We would gladly ascribe all that is blamable in our Senator's life to the indiscretions of tender years, but to do so would be to stifle common sense and act like an insane person.

The Senator says the act of changing his name could not be recalled when once committed. Why not? The step taken under the sudden perturbation of mind, had only to be repudiated when sober reason returned. All he had to do was to begin to pass himself by his true name, and the thing would have been accomplished. This excuse is absurd. The truth is plain. The object he had in view in taking a name other than that of his father was a continuing one, and the deception has been continued accordingly and never would have been acknowledged had not its further concealment been impossible.

There is another matter connected with this remarkable history, which, besides being important in itself, throws a flood of light, it seems to us, upon the circumstances connected with his leaving Pennsylvania; and which we will state as it comes to us from an individual of high social standing now residing in this city, who speaks from personal knowledge. By this person it is stated that about the last of April or first of May, 1860, (the reader will observe that Mr. Hipple left Pennsylvania in April of that year) the man whom we now call Senator Mitchell landed at the port of San Luis Obispo in Southern California, from a steamship bound from Panama to San Francisco. In those times, we may remark parenthetically, the Pacific Railway being yet unbuilt, the travel to California from the East was mostly by steamer. With the future Senator, landed also a handsome and sprightly young woman whom he introduced as Mrs Mitchell, his wife. The two went out to the town of San Luis Obispo, which is a few miles inland from the seaport of the same name, and there Mr. Mitchell opened a law office under the name of John H. Mitchell, rented a house and furnished it, and settled down to business. Then he introduced the person he called his wife, into society. She appeared to be extremely fond of him, and of a little girl who was understood to be their daughter, frequently alluding with pride to the talents of her husband, and saying he had studied law with one of the most eminent lawyers of Pittsburg, and would himself become a great lawyer some day. This person, it is stated, said she had been a school ma'am before her marriage to Mr. Mitchell. Early in June, it was determined by the citizens to have a Fourth of July celebration, and Mr. Mitchell was complimented with an invitation to deliver the oration. He accepted the invitation, but soon afterwards came to the conclusion to leave the place, assigning as a reason for this sudden change of purpose, that the lawyers there understood the Spanish language, and had, therefore, an advantage over him, the people there being largely of Spanish or Mexican origin, that business was light anyway, and that he and his wife were both too unqualifiedly Republican to get along well in a place so strongly Democratic as that. He left there, with his family, before the time to deliver his oration, our informant thinks about the middle of June. We know nothing further of him or of the woman accompanying him, till he reached Portland without her, on or about the first day of July of the same year. He could not have stopped long in San Francisco.

This is the statement made to us. We are not at liberty to use the name of the person making it unless the facts are denied. We do not vouch for the truth of anything of which we have not personal knowledge, but we do not believe the Senator himself will question the veracity of the person who makes these statements. If there is some mistake about this matter, in spite of all its circumstantial particularity, it will be easy to show what the truth is, as the scene where the transactions are laid is convenient of access, and the facts will be well remembered there. This statement finds corroboration in the fact that soon after Mr. Mitchell came to Portland, and many times since, he told different persons that his wife had died in California, just before his coming up here.

Another circumstance not without significance is that when the story of his changing his name was first made public here, the Senator denounced the statement as an unmitigated falsehood, and afterwards, and in a very short period, confessed its truth.

Does not the presence of the woman in California explain how he happened to leave Pennsylvania? Does not the whole transaction there explain the necessity for taking money with him in his flight? These questions we leave the intelligent reader to answer.

How far the Senator's course of life during his residence in this State has been such as to entitle him to oblivion of his past misdeeds, all can judge. Instead of discarding the false name he carried to California, as he might well have done on arriving here, he continued the deception till he was discovered by persons whom he could not control. Instead of living in that retirement and obscurity which he says was his object in fleeing his country and changing his name, he immediately, upon coming to Oregon, sought to be placed in the most prominent positions in the State and nation, and has never scrupled at any means, that seemed to be necessary, to accomplish his purposes. Instead of exercising that charity towards others which he now asks for himself, no one has been so relentless as he toward those who stood in the way of his ambition. That his private life has been impure since he came here, we do not assert nor deny. It has been said, but we have no disposition to seek for proof of it. That his management in politics has been above the low average of these corrupt times we presume his warmest friends will not insist. Taking the facts just as we find them, there is so much unexplained that is worse than what he attempted to explain, that unless he clears up the matter he can not expect to be longer supported by the moral people of his State.

The White Modocs.

When Captain Jack and his band murdered Gen. Canby and Commissioner Thomas and attempted the murder of other persons in their company, a cry of indignation and vengeance such as had never been heard before went up from every quarter of the country. Nothing short of the extermination of the entire Modoc tribe would be accepted as a proper measure of the punishment that was to be meted out to the Indians in return for this cowardly assassination. What then are we to say of the conduct of these white men whose deeds of blood are reported in the dispatches published this morning? These are civilized men with the benefits of a Christian education, and yet they make themselves the rivals of the worst Indians. We hope for the credit of Oregon, and for the good name of the men who volunteered to go out and chastise the Modoc band that it may be proved that this infernal deed was not committed by Oregon soldiers, and for the sake of justice and good government we hope also the perpetrators of the fiendish act may be apprehended and hanged along with Capt. Jack. The people of Oregon will not approve of this piece of cowardice. Whatever may be their feelings of bitter hatred toward the Modocs who butchered the settlers on Lost river they will not give their approbation to the men who have shown themselves capable of as base a deed as the Modocs themselves.

State Sunday School Convention

A circular, which has come to our table, announces that the Oregon State Sunday School Convention will meet at the First Presbyterian Church in Salem, on Tuesday, June 10th, to continue in session two days. The programme suggested by the committee is as follows

Tuesday.—Introductory exercises and organization. Reports of delegates or friends from abroad. Reports of Sunday Schools. Reports from destitute regions. Reports from Sunday School work among Chinese.

Wednesday.—Prayer for Sunday Schools. How to conduct an infant class. How to conduct a Bible class. How to conduct the school. Sunday School literature. Object of teaching in the Sunday School.

For the evening of each day a lecture or sermon is announced—subject and speaker not mentioned.

Not the most unimportant of the themes for discussion mentioned above, is the subject of "Sunday School literature." If the libraries of the Sunday Schools throughout the United States could be overhauled and subjected to the critical scrutiny by which ordinary current literature is tried, a large proportion of the volumes would be rejected. We fear there is too much of the Ned Buntline class of stories clothed in scant garb of morality. We hope that the Convention may accomplish much good in its honest endeavor to increase the efficiency of one of the best and most attractive agencies of Christian civilization—the Sunday School.

The Waldo Hills in Marion county are said to be one vast strawberry patch.

The Story of the Senator with Two Lives

From the Pittsburg Leader of May 15th

BUTLER, PA., May 15, 1873.—Jno. H. Mitchell, newly elected United States Senator from Oregon, as yet but little known to fame, has lately been made the subject of a sensational story, which shows him to have had quite a history, with incidents in it redounding not wholly to his credit. When he was plain John H. Mitchell, his story possessed no interest for any one outside of his own immediate circle, but now that he has become a member of the august United States Senate, his antecedents and past life become of public interest. In the position of a Senator, exposed to the thousands of temptations incidental to that high place, it is highly important that each Senator should start out virtuous, at least, as Henry Wilson did when he went out of the shoe business and into legislative cobbling.

So, when the breezes gently whispered in Pittsburgh that the new Senator from Oregon was an old Pennsylvania man, and that he was at present under an assumed name on account of an unfortunate past life, the matter became at once a proper one for investigation.

A SENATOR WITH AN ALIAS

The object of the inquiry was not to rake up any past scandals against Mr Mitchell, but as a United States Senator with an alias is a suspicious character, and if for no other reason than in justice to the Senator himself, an explanation was sought. Then the charge made against him of being a defaulter to a large amount was worthy the most careful attention. Your correspondent went to Butler, the former home of Mr. Mitchell, yesterday, and there, in conversation with the old law partner, received the history of the new Senator's early life. His Butler experience was a bitter one.

THE OLD, OLD STORY,

With a woman as the principal character as a promoter of misery, seems to have been his. In Butler he was known as John Hipple. One day his burden became too heavy for him, and he fled without word of warning, taking with him some $4,000 of his partner's money, for which he left what he said in a letter was to be used as an equivalent. From this his partner realized about $2,500. The balance was afterwards made good to him. For years, however, Hipple remained unknown to his former Butler friends. Occasionally Mr Thompson, his old partner, heard from him, but the letter was always enclosed to him through a third party, so that the runaway's whereabouts remained unknown. The real name of the new Senator is John Mitchell Hippell. It appears that when he went to Oregon he dropped his surname, or rather transposed his name, so that it stood John H Mitchell. This was for the purpose of more effectually concealing his whereabouts. The unhappy marriage which he contracted in Butler was the main cause of his misfortunes. Three children were had by his wife, one conceived outside of wedlock, and two born after his marriage. The first he took with him in his flight. The others he left in this county, and has since supported. Further particulars of his story were given in an interview which your correspondent had with Col. Thompson, of the firm of Thompson & Scott. Thompson was the preceptor of young Hipple, as I shall now call him, and afterward took him into partnership.

THOMPSON'S STORY.

Your correspondent found Col. Thompson in his office early last evening, and, upon the announcement of his business, Mr. Thompson at once expressed his willingness to talk. Mr. Thompson is a man in the prime of life, of an active, energetic type. He is well known in Pennsylvania politics, having served several terms in the Harrisburg Legislature, and acted one or two terms as Speaker of the House of Representatives. The conversation began at once upon the subject of Mr. Hipple, alias Mitchell.

Correspondent—You have heard, doubtless, of the stories lately circulated concerning the gentleman known as Mr. Mitchell, United States Senator from Oregon. First, I wish to know from you is Mr. Mitchell identical with John Hipple, your former law partner in this place?

Colonel Thompson—He is.

C.—Then I should like from you a true history of Mr. Hipple's experiences here, and whether the present stories circulated about Oregon's new Senator are true or not.

Col. T.—In part what has been said concerning him is true, but the stories have been highly colored, and unless viewed from a standpoint of a full knowledge of the case may lead to the prejudice of Mr. Mitchell, or Hipple, just as you please. I will tell you his story as I know it, and trust that you will publish my statement as I give it to you.

C.—I shall certainly do so.

Col. T.—I am not very positive about dates, but I think John Hipple came into my law office in 1856. He was an extremely diligent student, and was taken into partnership with me in 1859. He was a remarkably ambitious young man; one who made friends everywhere, and was very attentive to business. In 1857 he was married, and right here it might be well to go back a little. The young lady whom he married was one of his childhood's mates. Their parents owned adjoining farms, for you must know John was a farmer's son. Her family was a respectable one, but one not remarkable, certainly, in an intellectual way. John and this girl, Sarah Hoom, were much together, and about this time

UNPLEASANT GOSSIP

Was aroused. Whether John ever did any wrong to the girl I am unprepared to say. At any rate, while yet unmarried she became with child, and instituted proceedings against John upon a charge of bastardy, claiming him as the father. The result of this was that John married the girl.

Would he have married her if he had not really been her seducer?

Col T.—You can settle that as you like. You are asking me for facts that I know in the case. John married the girl in 1857, I think; this was upon the advice of his father. Of course the marriage that followed was a

MOST UNHAPPY ONE

It could hardly have been different under the circumstances. Two children were the result of this marriage. The first child, the cause of the action against John, was a girl named Jessie. I really believe my old partner tried to live with his wife, but her tastes were of such a nature that there was nothing in common between them. He was educated, studious, and possessed a vaulting ambition. She could not sympathise with him, and there was perpetual discord. He said but little of this to me, and seemed resolved to bear his burden in silence. During the winters of 1859 and 1860, I was Speaker of the House of Representatives, and was away most of the time. John looked after my business entirely. In April, 1860, I returned to my office. A day or two after my arrival home, John left the office to go to Pittsburg, merely saying that he was going away on business.

HE NEVER RETURNED

As my partner. A short time after his departure I received a letter dated "The Wide World." It had no postmark by which I could tell where he was. This letter stated his reasons why he had gone away. He said in it that he could not live with his wife; that he was going away where he would be undiscovered, and begin life over again. He inclosed assignments to me of all his property here, in satisfaction of some $4,000 which he took with him. He said if this was not enough to make the $4,000 good he would make it so to the value of every cent.

A POSSIBLE DEFALCATION.

C.—Colonel, was that really in the nature of a defalcation?

Col. T.—It might be

C.—That is, if you had found Mr. Hipple at the time, and had wished to have an action for him upon the ground of defalcation, there might have been a case made out?

Col. T.—There might have been, if I had so desired. But I am well satisfied there was no intention to defraud. Mr. Hipple has since made good to me the discrepancy of $1,500. Right here I want to make one point clear. There was never any compromise made by me with creditors occasioned by my partner's flight. The creditors of Thompson & Hipple were paid in full all their claims against the firm.

WHY? OH, WHY?

C.—Why was it, if Mr. Hipple had confidence in you, he did not reveal his plans to you, instead of running away as he did, without giving you any warning of his intent?

Col. T.—He was young and inexperienced. He was made morbid by his unhappy marriage, and doubtless was afraid of some obstacle being laid in the way of his leaving.

THE PITTSBURGH INTERVIEW.

C.—About that interview you had with him in Pittsburgh last month?

Col. T.—I went to Pittsburgh at his request. I took dinner with him at the Union depot hotel on Sunday, the 20th of April last. I had been in correspondence with him for some time, and had seen him several times since 1867. There was no money difference between us then. All that was settled in 1867. Hipple felt that the one great indiscretion of his life was the assumption of a false name. Probably he wished to talk with me about it. At any rate, we did talk over his position, and the certainty of his story finally coming out now that he had arisen to a position of public trust. I advised him to meet the story boldly, and tell the real truth of the case. I saw him but a brief time, as after dinner he went on his journey.

C.—For years you never knew where he was?

Col. T.—No. This was doubtless only another one of the many precautions that John took to prevent his wife following him, a subject upon which he is perfectly morbid. His wife remained at home part of the time. She worked also about in families. She was at one time a charge upon this township. The occasion of this was her being with child, as was alleged, by some one unknown to me. The two children left here were placed in the care of John's brother in law, Dr Porter, who lives in Indiana county. John has regularly contributed to their support. They have been well cared for, the mother never taking the slightest interest in them."

The Colonel here squared himself about and said: "I want to give you, after having given you the facts in the case, my opinion." Mr. Thompson then said, in a very earnest way.

"As an intimate friend, the preceptor and partner of John M Hipple, I wish to say that I never saw a dishonest nor dishonorable act committed by him. I esteemed him, and yet do, as a man of honor and integrity. While it is true he left me his creditor, I believe he thought he had provided for me fully. In this he was mistaken, but on ascertaining the fact paid me in full. I never held him to be criminal in not paying me, and I do not now. I trusted him in times gone by, and looking over his entire life, I am ready to confide in and trust him yet. His conduct is undoubtedly open to criticism, not to say censure, but when fully understood, the reasons for controlling his action all known, I am satisfied a fair verdict will hold him, as I do, justified and vindicated."

C.—Of course you omit the little transaction he had with his wife before marriage?

Col T.—I omit nothing. I can overlook a youthful indiscretion so bitterly atoned for, in the light of the truly high character of the man.

UPON FURTHER INQUIRY

It appears that John Hipple has been here several times during the last two or three years to visit his parents, who reside near town. He has no longer any fear of his wife, who procured a divorce from him (not he from her, as has been stated), some three or four years ago, from Mr R. P. Scott, the then Commissioner. The ground upon which the divorce was granted was desertion. The Oregon Senator has since contributed at intervals money for her support, as well as before her divorce. This seems to be the real facts in the case so far as they can be elicited here. That John Hipple Mitchell committed grave indiscretions in his youth, and has since been severely punished, is quite certain. He stands in the anomalous position in the United States Senate as a Senator with an alias. Whether this will redound to his credit, in connection with the cause that led him to assume it, will hardly be asserted by the most enthusiastic of his friends.

SO-CALLED REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Pursuant to announcement, made by the Committee, the delegates elected on last Saturday at the so-called Republican primaries convened at the Court House last evening for the ostensible purpose of placing in nomination a so called Republican ticket for the approaching municipal election.

The Convention was called to order by W. W. Spaulding, one of the two "bolters" from the regular City Republican Committee, and who had issued the call for the so-called Republican primaries.

When order was secured, Mr. Spaulding placed in nomination for Chairman J. H. Woodward, Esq., who was unanimously elected. That gentleman took the Chair and announced that the next thing in order was the election of a Secretary.

The name of A. E. Borthwick was next proposed for Secretary, resulting in his election.

On motion a committee of three persons, consisting of Messrs. Geo. H. Flanders, Geo. E. Watkins and Sol Hirsch, were appointed on Credentials.

The Chair also appointed as a Committee on Resolutions W. H. D. Joyce, W. Jackson and J. C. Carson.

The committee on credentials submitted their report, entitling the following persons to seats in the Convention:

First Ward—W. W. Spaulding, D. McKercher, George H. Flanders, Wesley Jackson, L. P. W. Quimby, John Donovan and L. Blum.

Second Ward—Levi Estes, E. A. Hawley, Sol. Hirsch, E. Milwain, George E. Watkins, A. E. Borthwick and J. H. Woodward.

Third Ward—H. A. Hogue, D. Monastes, E. J. W. Stemme, W. Bradan, M. Peterson, W. H. D. Joyce, Henry Morgan, D. Stimson, J. Huntington and J. C. Carson.

The committee on resolutions submitted the following report, which was adopted:

Resolved, That at this time it is unwise and impolitic for the city to assume the heavy liabilities which the purchase of the Portland Water Company's works would involve at the price named by that company, and that all action upon that matter should be deferred until some future time, and then approached cautiously with a view to give the best possible results at the least possible expense to the city.

Resolved, That a due regard for the welfare of citizen labor, as well as for the prosperity and progress of the country, requires that the employment of Chinese should be discouraged, and we hereby pledge the Republican party, in so far as it shall have power, to an absolute prohibition of Chinese labor on all works controlled by the city and paid for out of the public revenues.

Resolved, That we insist on rigid economical management of city affairs, and believe that the Republican party is competent to guarantee and secure it.

Mr. Joyce moved that the Convention proceed to the nomination of Mayor by ballot.

Mr. Quimby placed in nomination the name of John McCraken for Mayor.

Mr. Blum moved that the Mayor be nominated by acclamation. This motion prevailed, and John McCraken was unanimously nominated.

The Chairman appointed as tellers L. P. W. Quimby and L. Blum.

On motion the Convention proceeded to the nomination of a Police Judge.

Mr. Quimby put in nomination O. N. Denny, and Mr. McKercher the name of H. W. Davis.

The Convention then proceeded to ballot for the two candidates with the following result: Number of votes cast, 21; O. N. Denny, 19; H. W. Davis, 2.

The Chair declared O. N. Denny the nominee of the Convention.

W. H. D. Joyce, placed in nomination L. H. Lewis for City Treasurer. On motion balloting was suspended and Mr. Lewis was unanimously nominated by acclamation.

The names of Geo. E. Gilbert and H. Oatman were placed in nomination for City Assessor. Whole number of votes cast 21, of which Gilbert received 9 and Oatman 12. The Chair declared Mr. Oatman the choice of the convention.

Mr. Hirsch moved that the Convention proceed to the selection of a City Central Committee consisting of three persons from each Ward, for the period of two years.

The following committee was elected: First Ward, J. D. Biles, John Donnovan, C. C. Phillips; Second Ward, L. Estes, Geo. E. Watkins, A. E. Borthwick; Third Ward, Jas. Lotan, M. Peterson, Thos. Huntington.

The Convention having ratified the little "cut and dried" programme which had been fixed up before-hand, and having performed the duties assigned them, dissolved, for the better reason that nothing further remained to be done.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

THE ASSEMBLAGE.

This body, or at least a number of men styling themselves a Democratic Convention, met yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock. The meeting was not large and lacked somewhat in enthusiasm. In fact, the "hosts of the Democracy" did not seem inclined to take much interest in the matter, and we inquired of several prominent members before we could ascertain whether the Convention would assemble in the Philharmonic Hall or the Police Court Room, but at last found that the former place had been selected. Repairing thither we found but few spectators and fewer delegates present. After awhile, however, the meeting was called to order by ex Governor Curry as member of the City Committee, and the Convention proceeded to

BUSINESS.

On motion, Eugene Semple was elected Chairman.

On motion H. L. Herman was chosen Secretary.

COMMITTEE ON CREDENTIALS.

On motion the following gentlemen were appointed a Committee on Credentials: Messrs. U. E. Hicks, J. J. Meagher, H. Martin, H. R. Leonard and A. M. Snyder. Before the committee retired, Mr. Pennoyer presented

A LETTER

To the Chairman of the Convention from the Democratic primary meeting of the Second Ward, notifying the Convention that the persons claiming seats in the Convention from that ward were not so entitled, and were not chosen by the Democrats of the ward; that the primary had by vote expressed its opinion that it was not expedient to make nominations on strict party issues.

The Chairman of the Convention asked Mr. Pennoyer if he was a member of the Convention.

Mr. Pennoyer answered that he was not, but was a Democrat and a member of the primary meeting in the Second Ward.

The Chairman then declared that Mr. Pennoyer was out of order, and that gentleman

BEING SQUELCHED

The report of the Committee on Credentials was read and adopted.

MEMBERS PRESENT.

Of those reported as entitled to seats there were present from the First Ward, A. Campbell, A. M. Snyder, O. Treuer and James Stewart. From the Second Ward, D. Jacobi, E. Semple, P. Callahan and U. E. Hicks. From the Third ward, A. P. Dennison, G. L. Curry, S. V. Ball, J. J. Meagher, H. R. Leonard and H. Martin. Some of these gentlemen held proxies for absentees and Thos. Burk declared entitled to a seat, was represented by his son John Burk. J. D. Holman also held the proxy of his son Sprague. This made up the personnel of the convention—small but respectable. On motion Mr. Semple was made permanent Chairman and and Mr. Herman Clerk.

A PLATFORM.

Some of the members deeming it necessary to have a platform a committee consisting of Messrs. Leonard, Curry, Treuer, Dennison and Snyder was appointed on the subject of resolutions.

The convention took a recess for fifteen minutes to allow the committee time to report.

At the conclusion of the fifteen minutes all the delegates before named, except Mr. Jacobi, appeared in their seats. For a platform of the Convention the committee offered the following:

Resolved, That the Democrats of Portland, in Convention assembled, declare that they are in favor of an economical administration of our city government, and a strict accountability of our city officers. That $1,800 is a sufficient compensation for Police Judge; that all other fees or emoluments of said office should be paid into the City Treasury. That we are opposed to any further indebtedness of the city for any purpose. That we are opposed to the employment of Chinese labor in any work to be done by the city. That we are opposed to all monopolies, as dangerous to liberty. That we are opposed to and discountenance the use of money in this and all elections, as corrupting and demoralizing. That we are opposed to all laws that take away from citizens any greater proportion of individual freedom than is absolutely necessary in order to secure the general safety of the whole country.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted.

NOMINATIONS.

On motion of Mr. Snyder, the Convention proceeded to make nominations for city offices to be filled at the coming election.

Mr. Campbell placed the name of Eugene Semple before the Convention.

Mr. Semple stated that he had requested the nomination, but on consultation with his friends had concluded not to run. He therefore withdrew his name.

Mr. Hicks nominated Col. Dennison, but the Colonel begged to decline.

Mr. Curry was named, but the Chairman failed to catch the name and the Governor, by accident, missed the honor of the nomination, as he was absent from the room at the time and would hence have had no chance to decline.

Mr. Meagher then moved that the Secretary be instructed to cast the vote of the Convention for Mr. Semple as candidate for Mayor. The motion was carried and Mr. Semple was declared the nominee.

He tendered his thanks briefly for the honor and accepted.

Nominations for candidate for Police Judge being in order, Col. Dennison named Col. B. B. Taylor.

Mr. Snyder named Alex. Dodge.

Mr. Hicks named J. D. Holman.

On the first ballot Taylor received 7 votes, Dodge 11, Holman 3, blank 1.

The name of Mr. Holman was withdrawn.

The second ballot stood Dodge 12, Taylor 9.

So Mr. Dodge was declared a candidate for Police Judge.

H. F. Risch was declared the choice of the Convention for Treasurer, and W. J. Kelly was also unanimously chosen as candidate for Assessor. Both the last nominations were by acclamation.

The nominations were then made unanimous.

The persons named by the primaries for Councilmen were indorsed by the Convention.

CITY COMMITTEE.

On motion, the Convention then proceeded to elect one gentleman from each Ward as a Democratic City Committee. Mr. Snyder was chosen from the First Ward, Mr. Holman from the Second and Col. Dennison from the Third.

SPEECHES.

Several gentlemen were then called on and responded in brief speeches. Among them were Col. Dennison, Gen. Mart. V. Brown of Albany, Col. Bellinger, Mr. Holman, Mr. Hicks, Mr. Martin, Col. Leonard, Gov. Curry and Mr. Semple. The remarks of these gentlemen elicited considerable applause, as they called the Convention "a little Spartan band," "heroes who were bearing the Democratic flag," "standing by the good old standard," "fighting for Jacksonian, Jeffersonian and other onian principles," etc., etc., but they all seemed to have but little hope of electing their ticket in this election.

CLOSING CEREMONIES.

After the speakers had concluded Mr. Snyder moved that the thanks of the Convention be tendered the Chairman and Secretary for the ability, impartiality and courtesy with which those officers had discharged their duties. The motion prevailed. Gov. Curry moved that the Convention adjourn sine die. Col. Dennison moved that before adjournment the Convention give three cheers for the ticket, Democracy and victory. The motion prevailed, the cheers were given, and the Convention dispersed without a vote on the motion to adjourn.

If you want pure, fine liquors of any kind, go to E. D. Tyne's, northwest corner of Oak and First streets, agent for the sale of Jessie Moore & Co.'s fine Old Bourbon and Rye Whiskies of Louisville, Ky.

Calamities will come upon us in spite of all precaution, but it is gratifying to learn that Helmbold's Celebrated Buchu can still be obtained at all the drug stores, and that it can be relied on to cure all diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs. Look out for counterfeits. Genuine has private proprietary stamp of H. T. Helmbold on each bottle. Directions accompany. Sold by all druggists. John F. Henry, New York, Sole Agent.

"I say, Tom, that is a nobby suit you have on! I declare I've been trying to get something that will fit me to a dot, and that I can depend on to wear well. Where did you buy them?" "I was passing along First street, last week, and as I turned the corner of Washington street I noticed some fine clothes and furnishing goods. The attraction was so great that I stepped inside, and after selecting the materials, I ordered what may be termed an elegant fitting suit. The place is Fishel & Roberts."

The public mind has been somewhat agitated with the Modoc war, an occasional marine or railway disaster, and the dull times, and the prospect of buying clothing at a figure not large enough to clean a man to the bedrock. The place has been found where you can buy men and boy's clothing, or gentlemen's furnishing goods, at the very lowest prices. It is at Beck & Wallman's, corner of Front and Washington street, where a full assortment of men and boys' clothing, in the latest styles, can be selected from.

Johnson's Anodyne Liniment may be used to advantage where any Liniment is desirable. In cases of severe cramps and pains in the stomach it is undoubtedly the best article that can be used internally.

UNITARIAN CHURCH.

Rev. Mr. Eliot delivered a discourse at the above church last Sunday morning. The text was taken from Luke 19:10: "The Son of Man is come to seek and to save that which was lost. Nothing can be more remarkable than the contrast between physical laws and the Law of Love. On the one hand is a system of necessities. Among plants and animals, the weak perish and the strong survive, the individual is nothing, the type is everything. In one light, nature presents an awful spectacle of plunder and destruction. The question presses upon us, does God so deal with men? Does this law stop when it crosses the line which divides man from the rest of nature?

At first the presumption seems overwhelming, that it does not stop. It plainly is in force, upon the physical organism. The laws of natural selection, and the survival of the fittest apply to the body. Races die out; families wash from existence, the individual lives or dies according to weakness or strength. When we take one more step into the territory of man's more interior being, it seems as if the same law would conquer. The weak in intellect and spiritual resources, are to perish, the strong or gifted, the educated and free, are to survive, and become the only the heirs of glory.

Yet far back in the iron embrace of nature is foreshadowed another law, that of protection and love. The seed is provided with shelter and covered from frosts, or given wings to help it on land and sea. The animal fights for its young; man cares for the helpless, first of his family, then of his tribe and nation. The law of love and helpfulness culminates in Christianity. Natural law cries, in thunder tones, down with the weak! up with the strong! Christ answers, "Up with the weak—save the weak first." Natural law says set the weak by themselves to perish; the strong by themselves to grow. Christ answers, "No, let the strong help the weak." God wants the world to live on the family principle. In the true family the unfortunate child receives the most care and love. We love God for the revelation of His will and message to a perishing world. It is worthy of Him to have planted the principle as the correlative or supplement of physical law. If Love is God, then there is hope for those who have fallen, from ignorance or sin, out of the ranks. We have here sunshine, melody and inspiration. We have rest and medicine for weary heart and sore-wounded, doubting mind. Love is God! Then there is hope for our wasted, wretched human race! In the very jaws of physical law we can believe against hope that God will redeem. Love's justice measures each with a tender sympathy for condition, surroundings and nature, and love lifts the sin of the world by destroying its motive, as the warm spring sun and rain lift the snows away from the face of the earth. How that same snow resists an effort to clear it away with spades—that is law's way of working—but love changes the climate and a day carries it away.

The history of Christianity is a history of the progress of this law of Love over men's minds and lives, but it has waged battle continually with the old mechanical law, which has crossed into its territory, first in one shape and then in another. Men at first extended the Love light but a little way against that presumption of physical law, by which the weak perish and the strong live. First, then, was a doctrine of election, a few arbitrarily saved, the vast remainder passed by. After a while Love took a higher range. All who hear and accept Christ are to be saved—this was the cry of free salvation raised by noble John Wesley. Then what of the heathen? Once they were thought to perish indiscriminately. Now it is said, they are judged by their own light. The next stage of Christian history was to believe that on this side of the grave a good life or noble act made a man worth saving. All agree, too, that on the very brink of leaving this world the wicked may repent, and have a hope of God's mercy; and many think that not any doctrine, however mistaken, will condemn a man to perdition, if his life is true. And what is the next stage? The mind of the Christian looks across the grave with anxious heart questionings. Thousands die impenitent. Is there no hope? No protection for souls whose opportunity here was less than ours? God tells the good and strong to work for the lost here, will he not let us do the same there? Love's law, the deep intuitions of the heart, faith in Christ, and the spirit of Scripture, all warrant this hope and conviction. The alternative presented is this, Either believe in physical law and re-enact it over Christianity, or have Love's Law. If merit saves, or the selection of the strong as against the weak, then are all lost. If Love enters the list, who shall dare to set metes and bounds for it in time or place?

And so we see at last the reason—love's reason for hoping and believing that love shall at last subdue evil, through Christ, and the good who follow him, and the final restoration of the erring will take place. This faith and hope is gaining ground everywhere. Those who hold it bate nothing of the meaning of judgment, retribution and suffering. The faith that Christ will at last draw all men to him, no more traverses the distinction of right and wrong or justice, than does God's free mercy to a single soul. For it is through holiness, repentance and free choice that it is to be consummated. Love will torment the dweller in the lowest hell with the thought of the Father's home. Love will visit sufferings and remorse until at last, through one discipline or another the stubborn soul will relent. Those who have learned to understand and believe this, are surely in the line of God's great Providences. Not only in the Liberal Church, but from such names as Maurice, Brook and McDonald, we are hearing the same inspiring note of faith in the final destruction of evil and the redemption of sinners. Evil is not eternal in the same sense that good ness is. Those who have perished, the lost and dead, in sin, are to be followed by God's hosts, and won at last to hate their sin, turn homeward, and say Father, I have sinned against thee. Condemn not this faith until you understand it. It only develops the principle which lies at the base of yourtown. Sin is no less terrible under it, and the judgments of sin are deemed as severe as imagination can bear. It only believes that at last, the most rebellious spirit against God will be moved by love's great motives and pleadings to repent, and that in the consummation of the ages, not as a mere figure of speech but as a glorious fact, sin and death and hell shall pass away, and God be all, and in all.

COOS BAY ITEMS.

Our regular correspondent at Empire City, writing under date of June 3d, says:

Circuit Court adjourned last Friday evening, after clearing the docket of about 39 cases.

The steamer Eastport arrived on the 28th ult., having left San Francisco on the 20th, and after getting up to Cape Mendocino against a very heavy northwest wind, she was obliged to return to San Francisco for coal. She brought about 150 tons of freight, and 55 passengers. Her return trip was delayed on account of running into a mud bank at the mouth of Coal Bank Slough.

During the week ending to day 450 tons coal and 100 M. feet lumber was shipped from the bay.

The arrivals for week ending this day were steamer Eastport, schooners Arago, Concordia, Elnorah, Parallel and Laura May. Sailed, schooners Elida and Ivanhoe.

Some Pertinent Questions.

PORTLAND, June 7, 1873.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In view of the approaching city election it behooves every voter, whose privilege it is to cast his influence in the balance for right or wrong, to investigate and ascertain the relative status of the several candidates who are placed in the field, before casting his vote; and it is his duty, after making such investigation and arriving at a conclusion, to come out and cast that vote for the right. The time was when partizan principles were alone considered even in the most insignificant local elections, and the character of the candidate was little thought of and entirely overlooked in the greater consideration of sustaining the party.

This was all very well when such momentous questions as putting down a gigantic civil rebellion were to be disposed of, and when the least irregularity in the machinery of government was exceedingly embarrassing to the helmsman of the Ship of State, and when all the help was needed which was possible to be given. But things have changed; our country is at peace at home and abroad. Our Chief Magistrate sits in state at the White House, or rides on the beach at Long Branch at pleasure. The Cabinet officers have no arduous labor to perform but to consult their ease, and our U. S. Senators and Congressmen have nothing to contend with in their legislation but their consciences. Considering all this, there are really many honest Republicans of this city who are not able to see how the exercise of a little economy in our local affairs could block the hinges of the U. S. Government, or even result disastrously to the Republican cause in this State hereafter, even though it does result in the defeat of a meagre crowd of politicians who call themselves the Republican party. Such a conclusion is too preposterously illogical for the common sense tax-payer to arrive at.

In the absence of any necessity for it the taxpayers of this city have no inclination to sacrifice their property and means at the party shrine, and more especially do they refuse to do so when the only result which they can possibly discover of such sacrifice is the enriching of those, who by trickery and deception ingratiate themselves into the favor of those men who control the nominating power.

But while the people in righteous indignation rise to proclaim their rights, the wise will do so cautiously.

It is the privilege and duty of each citizen to know the standing of every candidate for whom he votes. While the well known character of the Committee of Twenty seven, who put forth the late nominations of candidates for city officers, would seem to most a sufficient guaranty that such candidates will not betray the people's trust, yet there are some who desire to know personally, and have complete assurance of the position occupied by the man for whom they use their influence. All necessary to be known in relation to the Councilmen, Assessor, and Treasurer, is that they are economical and honest. Their selection by the Committee should be a sufficient assurance of this.

But the choice of a Police Judge will carry with it more than ordinary interest, inasmuch as so much has been said and written in regard to the appropriation by the present incumbent of fees rightfully belonging to the city. There is an issue of law in this matter of Police Judge fees, and I suppose that officer may, with no dishonest motive, however far from honest the act may be considered by others, take to himself the fees in State cases.

But the question is asked, "Are we improving the state of affairs in this regard by electing Mr. Risley?" We are assured on the other hand that in the event of Mr. Risley's election the evils complained of will be entirely abated, as that gentleman has pledged himself not to receive more than the eighteen hundred dollars which our city charter allows him, while on the other hand this is flatly denied, and we are told that undoubtedly Mr. Risley will take the fees as heretofore, and as it is to the interest of the Prosecuting Attorney to make as many State cases as possible that he may secure his fees, therefore the people need not look in that direction for retrenchment.

It seems to me that every voter has the right to know Mr. Risley's position on this point; certainly no one is in duty bound to do so, however much he may have at heart a desire for the right to succeed, unless that position is made known.

Reform and economy are what we are earnestly seeking; let us know, then, what we are doing.

COLEMANS Dr. J. E. Coleman's Compound Extract of Eucalyptus is a preparation containing EUCALYPTUS all the valuable medicinal qualities of the Eucalyptus, which is cultivated in nearly every California garden for its medicinal utility, having become the household remedy for all diseases of the KIDNEYS, BLADDER and URINARY CANAL, and SEMINAL WEAKNESS. It seems to have a direct affinity for the GENITO-URINARY ORGANS and their surroundings, and cures them by its alterative, healing and balsamic properties more effectually than any other known remedy.

It is an invaluable remedy for all diseases of the mucous and serous membranes, such as BRONCHITIS, HACKING COUGH, NAUSEA DURING PREGNANCY, DYSPEPSIA, LEUCORRHOEA, etc.

This preparation is the result of Dr. Coleman's experiments with the medicinal properties of the tree in the U. S. Marine Hospital in San Francisco, in 1871 and 1872, where he had unusual facilities for testing the various methods of preparing the remedy, and its uses. It can be relied upon as certain to give the promised result, and hundreds of testimonials of its efficacy can be seen at his office, 405 Kearney street, San Francisco.

COLEMAN'S DOUBLE EXTRACT OF EUCALYPTUS is a powerful, yet harmless, febrifuge, and is a special preparation for the treatment of the malarious fevers of our interior valleys, and is warranted to cure any case of FEVER AND AGUE treated with it according to directions, while the baneful results of the usual Quinine and specifical remedies for those diseases are entirely avoided.

FOR PHYSICIANS, Coleman's Fluid Extract of Eucalyptus in 1 lb bottles.

Return of the Rain.

Delightful rain, I welcome thee,
Why so long away?
Other charms on land or sea
Have thus prolonged thy stay;
Tell me, pattering music elf
Dancing on the shingle pine,
Setting leaves with diamond pelf,
Washing dust from ivy vine,
What flirtations! Ah, I know
Your music charms where e'er you go,
Summer climes enchantment give,
Perhaps more welcome there you find,
The shriveled grain e'en scarce could live
Were you to slight if thus inclined,
Then in return when you pass by,
Sweet flowers of dazzling tint
Turn rosy faces to the sky,
And of modest kisses hint.

I envy you, mild, gentle rain,
You come, you go, you stay,
You're like a fickle fondling swain,
First here, then there, away.
But welcome to our fields once more,
My song to you I'll sing,
Of sweetest things for you in store
With bounteous hand I bring.
Then listen to the pattering rain
As on the roof it falls,
On leaf and flower and dusty plain,
On lake and sundried walls
Oh soothing rain inspire the Muse
To tell me all, I pray,
From whence come all these gentle dews,
This dancing, witching, spray
The fresh green blade and flower
Put forth and smile again,
The ivy creeping o'er ruined tower
Looks up to sip the rain.

The little fairies on the lake,
Dance up and down in time,
To music gentle zephers make,
Harmonious, sweet, sublime.
The little new-born rill trips down,
From out the mountain side,
Rippling, sparkling, like diamond crown,
In all its earthly pride,
Well, may it laugh and frisk along,
Now, is its sunniest time,
Soon on its bosom, fleets will throng,
In far off distant clime;
Of little things, oh, who can tell,
Their destiny and gain?
Of what we've sung you know full well
'Twas only gentle rain.

Tilton Beecher.

THE ORIGIN OF THE BEECHER SCANDAL—A LONG THREATENED DOCUMENT PUBLISHED AT LAST.

From the Brooklyn Sunday Press.

The editor of the Golden Age has been many times solicited by friends, and challenged by enemies, to explain the sudden sundering of his relations with Mr. Henry C. Bowen. For a long time his only answer to such request and innuendoes was the silence which ought to shield one's private affairs from public gaze. But during a recent journey of some thousands of miles through the northwest among people whose familiar acquaintance he had made in former years, and whose good opinion he is still unwilling to lose, he had become convinced that a proper sense of self-respect required the publication of the appended letter. It was written within a few hours after the severance of his business association with Mr. Bowen and through a Christian friend was conveyed to the person to whom it was addressed. So many false stories have been told of the occurrence to which it refers, the writer has determined to confront these fictions with the facts:

BROOKLYN, June 1, 1871.—Mr. Henry C. Bowen—Sir: I received last evening your sudden notice breaking my two contracts, one with the Independent, the other with the Brooklyn Union. With reference to this act of yours I will make a plain statement of facts. It was during the early part of the rebellion, if I recollect aright, when you first intimated to me that Rev. Henry Ward Beecher had committed acts of adultery for which, if you should expose him, he would be driven from the pulpit. From that time onward your reference to this subject was frequent and always accompanied with the exhibition of deep seated injury to your heart. In a letter which you addressed to me from Woodstock, June 16th, 1863, referring to this subject, you said: "I sometimes feel that I must break silence; that I must no longer suffer as a dumb brute, and be made to bear a load of grief unjustly. One word from me would make a rebellion throughout christendom, I had almost said, and you know it. You have just a little of the evidence from the great volume in my possession. I am not pursuing a phantom, but solemnly brooding over a reality."

Subsequent to this letter and on frequent intervals, from this till now, you have repeated the statement that you could at any moment expel Henry Ward Beecher from Brooklyn. You have reiterated the same thing not only to me, but to others. Moreover, during the year just closed, your letters on the subject were marked with more feeling than heretofore, and were not unfrequently coupled with your emphatic declaration that Mr. Beecher ought not to be allowed to occupy a public position as a Christian teacher and preacher.

On the 25th of December, 1870, at an interview in your house, at which Mr. Oliver Johnson and I were present, you spoke freely and indignantly against Mr. Beecher as an unsafe visitor in the families of his congregation. You alluded by name to a woman, now a widow, whose husband's death you did not doubt was hastened by his knowledge that Mr. Beecher had maintained with her an improper intimacy. As if to leave no doubt on the minds of either Mr. Johnson or myself, you informed us that Mr. Beecher had made to you a confession of guilt, and had implored your forgiveness. After Mr. Johnson retired from this interview, you related to me the case of a woman of whom you said (as nearly as I can recollect your words) that Mr. Beecher took her in his arms by force, threw her down on the sofa, accomplished upon her his deviltry, and left her.

During your recital of this fact you were filled with anger toward Mr. Beecher. You said, with terrible emphasis, that he ought not to remain a week longer in the pulpit. You immediately suggested that a demand should be made upon him to quit his sacred office. You volunteered to bear to him such a demand in the form of an open letter which you would present to him with your own hand, and you pledged yourself to sustain the demand which the letter should make, viz: That he should, for reasons which he explicitly knew, immediately cease from his ministry at Plymouth church, and retire from Brooklyn. The first draft of this letter did not contain the phrase for reasons that he explicitly knew, and these words, or words to this effect, were incorporated in a second at your motion. You urged, furthermore, very emphatically, that the letter should demand, not only Mr. Beecher's abdication of his pulpit, but the cessation of his writing for The Christian Union, a point on which you were overruled. This letter you presented to Mr. Beecher, at Mr. Freeland's house. Shortly after its presentation, you sought an interview with me in the editorial office of the Brooklyn Union, during which, with unaccountable emotion in your manner, your face livid with rage, you threatened with loud voice that if I ever should inform Mr. Beecher of the statements which you made concerning his adultery, or should compel you to adduce the evidence on which you agreed to sustain the demand for Mr. Beecher's withdrawal from Brooklyn, you would immediately deprive me of my engagement to write for the Independent, and to edit the Brooklyn Union, and that in case I should ever attempt to enter the office of those journals you would have me ejected by force. I told you that I should inform Mr. Beecher or anybody else according to the dictates of my judgment, uninfluenced from any authority from my employers. You then excitedly retired from presence. Hardly had your violent words ceased ringing in my ears when I received your summary notices breaking my contract with the Independent and Brooklyn Union. To the foregoing narrative of fact I have only to add my surprise and regret at the sudden interruption by your own act of what has been on my part a faithful service of fifteen years.

Truly yours,
THEODORE TILTON.

As a sequel to the above letter it should be added that Mr. Bowen, after charging Mr. Beecher with extraordinary criminality, after declaring that the case had been put to him and he made a "confession of guilt, imploring forgiveness with tears," after instigating a demand that forthwith Mr. Beecher would vacate his ministry, after protesting that he could and would sustain these demands with complete evidence, after acting as the bearer of this demand in person; after all this he went immediately to Mr. Beecher in the guise, not of accuser but champion, and pledged to him the protection of his friendship and counsel against the very indictment which he himself had inspired, dictated, and presented.

In other words, while secretly arranging Mr. Beecher's destruction he openly presented himself to his victim as a safeguard and refuge. In the whole world's history of treason there is not a darker instance of shameless duplicity and malicious craft. The writer, unsuspicious at first of the double role which Mr. Bowen was dexterously playing, was first made aware of his villainy, followed immediately by the termination of his engagement as a special contributor to the Independent, and as editor of the Union, the contracts having been just newly made, and the ink with which they were signed being hardly dry. When a copy of the above was laid before Mr. Beecher he indignantly denied Mr. Bowen's charges each and all, and with peculiar anger pronounced the alleged declaration of guilt a most diabolical lie. With the issue between these two contestants the editor of the Golden Age has nothing to do, except to regret the painful necessity which compels this publication involving their names.

MR. THEODORE TILTON—Sir: I shall publish with great pleasure in the Independent your letter to me, followed by such editorial remarks as I trust and hope will please you and your numerous friends. We have been together as co-workers for many years, and I now most solemnly declare to you that never for one instant have I entertained a single unfriendly feeling toward you. To-day I rejoice that we may again clasp hands as friends. If I have done you any wrong in the past I most sincerely regret it and ask you to overlook it. Henceforth let us have peace and good will between us each doing his own work in his own way, as seemeth best in the sight of God. We shall shall meet now as friends, I hope,—as Christian friends,—and no act of mine shall disturb our friendly relations. With every good wish for you and yours, I am truly your friend, HENRY C. BOWEN.

It is understood that Mr. Tilton was not satisfied with this letter, but desired one in which the amende honorable should be more strongly made. Mr. Bowen is understood to have written the following:

MR. THEODORE TILTON—Sir: I authorize you to say at any time at your discretion, and on my authority, that your retirement from the Independent and Daily Union was for no unfriendly reason. You have a right to entertain your own political, social, and religious opinions. Far be it from me to manifest toward you, therefore, any unfriendly, and unchristian feelings. With a sincere desire for your present and future welfare and prosperity, I remain, etc.,

"H. C. BOWEN."

TO THE TAX-PAYERS OF THE CITY OF PORTLAND.

The Portland Water Company take this method of defining their position on the purchase of their works by the city of Portland:

On the 25th day of April, 1872, this company received a communication from Messrs. W. S. Ladd, J. B. Congle, C. H. Lewis and S. G. Reed, sub committee on water supply, appointed by the Mayor, asking the question:

"Will you dispose of your works to the city of Portland? and if so, you will state price, terms, etc."

Our answer was, we would sell; and the price, three hundred thousand dollars, to be paid as specified.

Again, the Committee on Fire and Water called on us at our office, saying they came in accordance with a resolution passed by the Common Council on the 5th of February, to confer with us as to the purchase of our works by the city, to ascertain the price, and report to the Council at their earliest convenience. This company named the same price, viz.: $300,000, that had been named to the former committee, two hundred and forty thousand dollars coin, and the city to assume the payment of sixty thousand dollars currency bonds, bearing seven per cent. interest, payable in July, 1880.

The committee made their report to the Common Council on the evening of February 18, 1873, from which report we copy the latter portion, viz:

We have been permitted to examine the income of the Water Company for the years 1870, 1871 and 1872, from rents of water, and from them we learn that the receipts would pay the interest on the bonds, the cost of operating the works, and have a considerable surplus, while the rents could be lowered one-fourth the present rates, and still pay rents sufficient to pay interest and cost of operating; thus giving to our citizens cheaper water, which is a matter greatly to be desired.

The increase of population in the city will increase the rents, and cheaper rates will increase to the takers, without corresponding increase in the cost of operating; and in the no distant future your Committee believe that the rates can be reduced to one half the present rates, and still leave a sufficient revenue to pay interest on the bonds and cost of operating, while a small sum can be annually accumulating to form a sinking fund for the redemption of the bonds.

Under the provisions of our charter nothing can be done in the way of incurring an indebtedness sufficient to purchase or build Water Works by the city until the proposition is submitted to the people at a general election, and by them approved.

Your Committee therefore recommend that the proposition of the Portland Water Company for the sale of their Works, rights, &c., &c., be submitted to the people at the coming June election, as provided by charter, for their approval or rejection.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

(Signed) J. B. CONGLE,
J. C. MORELAND,
Committee on Fire and Water.

The Portland Water Company would respectfully state to the tax-payers the fact, that they have not urged the city to purchase our works. We have simply answered in good faith communications from committees appointed by the Mayor and Common Council of this city, as we supposed in good faith on the part of the city, and as a continuance of our willingness to give to the tax payers and the public any information they may desire, in order that they may vote intelligently at the coming June election for or against the purchase of our works by the city, we submit the following abstract from our books for two years, with the probable rates for one year:

| Surplus after reduction of rates | | $6,520 00 |

The city can run the works, reduce the rates 25 per cent., and leave a balance in favor of the city of six thousand, five hundred and twenty dollars; or, in other words, consumers that now pay $2 per month, can be supplied for $1 50 per month, and others in proportion; and still the city will receive a revenue without taxing the people for a water supply.

Any further information desired in relation to the Company's works will be freely given on application at their office.

Respectfully,
THE PORTLAND WATER COMPANY.
H. D. GREEN, President.

There seems to be a continued but slowly advancing tendency in our local finances toward an improved condition. Though the regular rates for money are still high, even for Oregon, the supply of capital is better and the process of accretion is going on at a pace not particularly discouraging. Disbursements for the various improvements undertaken in our State at the opening of spring, are being made and send an amount of money into general circulation the effect of which is quite manifest in the circles of trade, where remittances are made with greater promptness and fresh hope inspired by the new order of things. With the assurance that our product would find a sufficient and reasonably cheap transportation, we might safely predict easy times in money and activity in trade during a great portion of next year.

All our eastern exchanges agree in pronouncing the prospect encouraging for the fall season and the indications all seem to point in that direction if we except the matters connected with transportation by sea as well as inland.

The Common Council, in pursuance of section 162 of the act to incorporate the city of Portland, as amended by the Act approved October 21st, 1870, contemplate incurring an indebtedness of four hundred thousand dollars for the purpose of providing and erecting water works, whereby to supply a constant and sufficient supply of good and wholesome water at reasonable rates; and to this end it is contemplated by said Common Council to purchase all and singular the water works, rights, reservoirs, franchises, privileges and property, both real and personal, now owned, possessed or claimed by the Portland Water Company, situate and being in Multnomah county, Oregon, for the sum of two hundred and forty thousand dollars gold coin, or gold bonds of the city, and the redemption and payment by the city of sixty thousand dollars of currency bonds heretofore issued by said company, payable at the city of New York in the year 1880, with interest payable semi annually in currency at the rate of seven per cent. per annum. And from time to time, as the Common Council may direct, to apply the remainder of said four hundred thousand dollars, after making provision for the payments above specified, in laying down additional and larger water mains, and otherwise enlarging and improving the fitness and capacity of said water works, for extinguishing and preventing fires, and for supplying the city and the inhabitants thereof with good and wholesome water, and in sufficient quantity.

The money for the purposes above named to be procured by the sale of "Portland Water Bonds," for an amount not exceeding four hundred thousand dollars, payable in U. ### TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW BODIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc, Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs cured.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life destroying maladies, see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confusion of ideas, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and infallible mode of treatment, which never fails. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

Married Men.

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written guarantee, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Post Office or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Post Office Box 1,957. REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

Be sure to inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian. ly6d4pk
